Super-Charged Project Planning & Partnering Beyond the Traditional Kick-off Meeting

Project kick-off meetings are all too often becoming merely contractual box-checking exercises. Partnering workshops are effective, yet, over time they have become more routine, plus the payback is not what it once was.

Using some simple tools and techniques, owners, design professionals, contractors PMs and CMs can greatly enhance their own success along, with that of the project.

Find out how to super charge your next project kick-off meeting and implement more successful project planning and partnering. Join Western Council and The Simplar Institute for this half-day workshop to learn the most advanced techniques and tools for “Partnering in the Real World.”

Who would benefit? Owners, Contractors, Design Professionals, Engineers, PMs, CMs, and other Professionals from all sectors of the construction environment.

Workshop Leader: Jeff Sawyer, Director of Strategic Engagements
The Simplar Institute, School of Sustainable Engineering and the Built Environment, Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering, Arizona State University
